

Businesses – are you looking for corporate multi-ecosystem services tools?

Policymakers – are you seeking reliable information to improve the quality of your decisions?

Researchers – are you interested in sharing results and learning new approaches?

Environmental NGOs – are you looking for restoration measures that will enhance ecosystem services?

Land managers – are you seeking advice on how to manage your natural resources sustainably?

Spatial planners – are you looking for ways to value ecosystem services in planning and policy?

Economists – are you keen to address the risks and opportunities facing supply chains?

The Oppla prototype is currently being developed as part of a joint activity between two large research projects funded by the European Commission: OpenNESS and OPERAs. Both projects are about making nature work for people by turning innovative research results into daily practice.

 Oppla_eu

To receive updates about Oppla visit the website, register for the mailing list and be there for the start of this exciting new community!

www.oppla.eu

OpenNESS and OPERAs have received funding from the European Union's Seventh Programme for research, technological development and demonstration under grant agreement No 308428 and 308393.

Designed by Countryside

 oppla

The latest knowledge about natural capital and ecosystem services

The latest knowledge about natural capital and ecosystem services:

faster, easier
and more reliable

Oppla is a new online platform, which aims to bring together knowledge about natural capital and ecosystem services from around Europe. Its overall purpose is to assist people in making nature work for the benefit of humankind.

If you are an entrepreneur, a consultant, a policymaker, a land manager, a scientist... whoever you are, Oppla aims to help you with practical advice, guidance, tools and techniques. It will feature a database of information and case studies, as well as a 'Question & Answer' facility – through which your questions about natural capital and ecosystem services will be answered by experts.

Oppla aims to establish a community of practice that shares resources, new ideas and practical experience. It also aims to function as a marketplace – enabling members to find consultants specialising in natural capital and ecosystem services, to help with their own projects.

 Oppla\_eu

The Oppla website will be complemented by events, training courses, a helpdesk and other services on demand.

All of which will combine to help you find the information and assistance you need: faster, easier and more reliable.

www.oppla.eu